Says No Reason for Tax Hike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson hasn't made a case for his proposed tax increase despite his increasing insistence for one, U.S. Rep. John Paul Hammerschmidt, R-Ark., said Tuesday.

He said he saw "no new condition, no changed situation which warrants the imposition of more taxes" on the wage earner and businessman, and that he doubted whether a tax increase actually would be anti-inflationary.

The freshman congressman cited increased unemployment and a recent decline in retail sales over the last six months as evidence that the economy wasn't as healthy as Johnson would like the public to think.

CONG TROOPS

tered skirmishes were logged in the ground war.

Over North Vietnam, U.S. Navy bombers on Tuesday came closer to the center of Haiphong than they have in some days.

Attacking pilots reported leaving secondary explosions and broken tracks in the railroad yards 1.7 miles northwest of the port city's center. They said they did heavy damage to the northern span of a rail and highway bridge a mile west of downtown Haiphong.

Both the yards and the bridge had been attacked before.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said the Bo Duc head quarters were attacked by troops at 272nd Viet Cong Regiment, the same Regiment that made a week-long series of attacks early in November on the Loc Ninh District headquarters 10 miles southwest of Bo Duc, U.S. forces said they counted 918 enemy bodies at Loc Ninh.

The attack on Bo Duc could be the start of an action similar to the battle at Loc Ninh, where one of the apparent Communist aims was to draw U.S. and South Vietnamese forces away from pacification efforts in more populous regions. Four U.S. battalions were diverted to the defense of Loc Ninh.

Reinforcements from the U.S. 1st Infantry Division and from South Vietnamese infantry units were ordered into the Bo Duc area today, but the action was reported over just as dawn began to break. There was no assurance, however, that the Viet Cong would not try again.

After 128 Years British Leave Aden

By MICHAEL R. CODEL
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP)—Britain signed an agreement in Geneva today ending 128 years of colonial rule in Aden, but there'll be no British royal presence and no warm handshakes when the Union Jack comes down for the last time in Aden at midnight.

Qahtan Al Ashabi, leader of the National Liberation Front (NLF) which is taking over the 112,000 square miles of scorching sand in South Arabia, and a British delegation headed by Lord Shackleton came to terms after a grueling 18-hour session that lasted all night.

A joint communique announced that the major issue of British financial aid to the new Republic of South Yemen will be decided in future talks. Britain meanwhile agreed to continue help at the present rate of 60 million pounds—now worth $144 million—a year.

The British want to lower that figure, which was set when Egyptian troops in neighboring Yemen were considered a threat. The Egyptians have left Yemen, but Al Shaabi said 60 million pounds a year is the least Britain can do after "128 years of colonial exploitation."

Al Shaabi and 14 associates flew back to South Arabia for the independence celebrations but the Republic of South Yemen was unofficially born Sunday morning when the Arabs awoke to find the last of the 12,000 British troops had pulled back to their barracks. The last 900 Tommies were flown to a transport offshore today, and the Royal Navy task force of 24 ships was to clear South Arabian waters by dusk.

Britain has not just freed the colony it held for 128 years at the southern entrance to the Red Sea. It has evacuated it altogether.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Robert V. Fleming, a Washington banker and civic leader for more than half a century, died Tuesday at 77. Fleming was a past president of the Washington Board of Trade and was chairman of the board of George Washington University for nearly 22 years. He had served as trustee and treasurer of the National Geographic Society and as a regent of the Smithsonian Institution.

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Virgil Miers, amusements editor of the Dallas Times Herald and dean of entertainment writers in Dallas, died Tuesday at the age of 42. He served with a Navy radio intelligence unit in World War II.

Air Traffic Disrupted

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—A fog mass at the Atlanta airport disrupted air traffic for the third time in five days Sunday night. Thick, swirling fog settled on the busy terminus Sunday night for more than two hours. A complete shutdown happened at one point, stranding nearly 1,000 passengers.

Limited service then was provided for the remainder of the night.

Fog forced a shutdown Wednesday night, when many families were leaving for the Thanksgiving holiday, and again on Friday morning.

Horse Stages a Sit-in MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—Kitty Hawk, a 5-year-old quarter horse mare, staged a "sit-in" Sunday against the Louisville & Nashville Railroad. She blocked a passenger train and a 100-car freight train.

The trouble began when Paula Roberts, 15, started leading Kitty Hawk across a trestle in northeast Memphis. Kitty Hawk made it part of the way before her legs slipped through the space between the ties.

Sheriff's deputies, assisted by about 30 passers-by, freed the horse once, but her legs slipped through again.

Finally, they used an auto seat belt and a man's belt and pulled Kitty Hawk out of the trap and across the trestle.

It had taken almost two hours. Kitty Hawk was not seriously hurt.

No True Bills in Cummins Prison Probe

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP)—The Lincoln County Grand Jury concluded a hurried, two-day investigation of Cummins Prison Farm Tuesday and returned no true bills.

It did slap the hands of the new state penitentiary physician, who had touched off the investigation with reports that a drug ring had been operating at the prison.

It also recommended several reforms in the medical program at the prison, but most of the proposals already were in effect before the investigation began.

The Grand Jury's ire seemed to be directed primarily at Dr. Edwin Barron Jr. of Little Rock, who became the prison physician about four months ago.

Barron told newsmen Oct. 31 that inmates who had been in charge of the prison medical program had been using prison invoices to order up to $9,000 a month in drugs and medical supplies that they sold in turn to other prisoners.

The Grand Jury apparently overlooked the fact that Barron had told the state Penitentiary Board a week before that, because it declared in its report that any "illegal action" discovered in the future should be brought to the attention of the proper authorities first, rather than released to the news media.

Circuit Judge Henry W. Smith of Pine Bluff instructed the jury Monday to investigate Barron's report, and the jury began hearing testimony from the 10 persons it had subpoenaed.

Treasury Head of Britain Has Resigned

LONDON (AP)—Chancellor of the Exchequer James Callaghan resigned today in the wake of Britain's devaluation of the pound. He switched places with Home Secretary Roy Jenkins, who succeeds him at the treasury.

The switch brings to the British treasury one of the Cabinet's leading exponents of Britain joining the Common Market. He is believed to have favored devaluation of the pound for months before it took place Nov. 18.

Callaghan's three-year tenure at the treasury was dominated by his unsuccessful battle to avoid devaluation.

Envoy Visits Cyprus in Peace Move

By ALEX EFTY
Associated Press Writer

NICOSIA (AP)—U.S. presidential envoy Cyrus Vance paid his first visit to Cyprus today for talks with Greek Cypriot leaders on their opposition to virtual war or peace conditions set by Turkey for the protection of the island's Turkish minority.

Vance flew to Nicosia from Athens after a long day and night of consultations with the Greek government. Foreign Minister Panayiotis Pipinellis described the situation as "delicate and dangerous" but said he thought war with Turkey was "less of a possibility now."

Vance and President Makarios, the leader of the Greek Cypriot community, met for an hour at the presidential palace while Turkish Air Force jets screamed overhead. It was their second day over Nicosia and their 12th successive day over Cyprus.

The Greek government has been reported willing to withdraw the 8,000-12,000 Greek soldiers who were infiltrated into Cyprus in violation of the 1960 Zurich agreements which gave

FRIENDSHIP CLUB MEET

The November meeting of the Friendship Club was held at the community center. Susan Lea Adams and Mrs. W. T. Fowler were hostesses for the meeting. The President, Mrs. Marion Crosby, called the meeting to order, then the group sang "When I Grow Too Old To Dream" led by Mrs. Elmer Wagner. The devotional, taken from St. Mark, Chapter 12, 29-31 was presented by Mrs. W. T. Fowler. The eye opener for the program was Sarah brought by Mrs. J. E. Adams. The lesson was "Picture Your Pictures". Roll call by Mrs. Cleodine consisted of 9 members and one guest, Reta Adams. Reading of the minutes was by Mrs. J. E. Adams, the Treasurer's report was by Mrs. Adams. The committee reports that the club will send Christmas gifts to rest homes for the aged of this community. The new business was the election of officers for 1968. They are President, Mrs. Marion Crosby, Vice-President, Mahle Lea Adams, Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Elmer Wagner. Plans for Christmas are to decorate a Christmas tree. All members will bring a gift to exchange. Everyone will bring their favorite refreshments for pot luck. Reta Adams won the door prize. Mrs. Adams read a poem entitled, Glad Thanksgiving. The meeting was adjourned by the reading of the "Homemakers Prayer." The next meeting and hostess will be announced later.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Murphy celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary at their home Sunday, November 26 with members of their immediate family. A gold epergne, a gift of the relatives, centered the dining table and held an arrangement of golden colored mums.

Those attending were: Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Hensley and family, Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Martinale and family, Bryan Yarbrough, Benton; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Murphy, and family, Sheridan; Maj. Bill Howell, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brannan, Jr., Shreveport; Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Brannan and family, Little Rock; Mrs. Orval Brannan and son, Houston; Mrs. W. R. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Brannan, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. James Gaines, and the Rev. and Mrs. Gerald Trussell, Hope.

BIDAL SHOWER FOR MISS CONNIE GOBLE

A bridal shower was given for Miss Connie Goble of Mt. Ida, bride-elect of Johnny Anthony of Hope, in the Fellowship Hall of the Mt. Ida Methodist Church Saturday evening, November 25. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Argus O'Neal, Mrs. Willard Thornton, Mrs. Phillip Kelley, Mrs. Ava Dell White, and Mrs. Joe Luther.

Miss Goble was lovely in a blue and white ensemble with a white carnation corsage. Other honored guests were Mrs. Willis Greeson, mother of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Graydon Anthony, mother of the future bridegroom. They also had white carnation corsages.

The bride's chosen colors of red and green were used throughout the receiving room which were decorated with red poinsettias, holly and winter arrangements. Beautiful bridal decorations and tapers were used on the gift tables, which were placed near a cheerful wood fire in the fireplace. The focal points on the gift tables were arrangements of red poinsettias and holly enhanced by lighted lamps and tapers. The corners of the tablecloths were entwined with green ribbon and cascading red and gold wedding bells.

The serving table, covered in red nylon net, was centered with an arrangement of red poinsettias, holly and miniature bridal doll. Punch, cake squares decorated with tiny red wedding bells, mints and nuts were served from crystal appointments. The honoree received many lovely and useful gifts. She was assisted in opening them by Mrs. Bill Roulton, sister of the groom-elect, Miss Tammy Greeson, sister of the bride-elect, and Miss Jane Roulton. Mrs. Joe Crigger presided at the bride's book. Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Raymond Mooney and Mrs. Jack Riddle, both of Hot Springs.

STUDY GROUP MEET

The Beryl Henry Study Group met Tuesday, November 28 in the home of Mrs. Mitchell LaGrone. Mrs. Bennett Wood led the discussion on the topic of "Books versus T.V." At the end of the discussion, refreshments were served to the twelve who were present.

Cites Why U.S. Is in Vietnam

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The United States is fighting in Vietnam because South Vietnam asked for help and because that country is important to U.S. security, the head of the Marine Corps Reserve said here Tuesday.

Maj. Gen. Clifford B. Drake of Washington said Red China had pointed out through its minister of defense its plans and strategy for world revolution, and that Vietnam played a part in them.

Drake, who was here to review the junior Marine ROTC unit at Catholic High School, said he didn't think the resignation expected from Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, who is to become president of the World Bank, would have any significant effect on U.S. armed forces.

THIS IS THE SEASON TO SHINE, to glitter, to glow. Colors dazzle everywhere and black comes into the spotlight. Black wool knit (left) is polished to perfection and touched with sparkling gold and topaz beads at the neck and hem. Pearls flicker like moonbeams on the white wool knit evening suit (right). They outline the jacket and touch the sleeveless shell in a diagonal pattern. These are from the glowing knit collection by Banfi.

House Made Into Family Fortress

A house that has become one family's fortress against the world may be breached by sheriff's deputies armed with warrants for the arrest of two of the nine occupants who say they won't come out "until God instructs us to."

Robert Holt, 36, has turned the rented home in this Los Angeles suburb into a retreat for himself and eight relatives. They closed the doors and drew the curtains in April.

They have lived there since without lights or heat. Weeds in the once well-tended lawn are now 6 to 8 feet high.

"You never hear a sound from that house," said Herman Hayes, a neighbor. "It's very sad and a mystery none of us can understand."

In the house are Holt, an engineer; his wife Loyce, 33; their 9 children: 3 sons and 6 daughters. Holt's mother, Ella Holt; Holt's brother, Ralph; his sister, Ella Mae Johnson; and her two sons, Colton, 17, and Andrew, 19.

When they first began their retreat they spoke to visitor through a broken window pane in the front door. Now queries meet only silence.

Utilities have been turned off. Mail was delivered, then picked up when it was not taken in. Nobody knows how they get food.

The savings and loan association that owns the house sent an attorney Tuesday with a notice that the Holts must pay rent they owe or move out within three days. He got no response.

When school started in September, the Holt girls didn't appear. Instead their parents went daughters Robbie, 6, and Sally, 10, pleaded guilty to keeping their daughter out of school.

But Judge Harry Schafer wouldn't accept the pleas. He said there may be a constitutional question of freedom of religion involved in the Holt's refusal to let their children attend school.

He ordered them to appear for a court hearing Monday. When they failed to appear, he issued bench warrants for the arrest of Mr. and Mrs. Holt.

Authorities say they aren't sure how to go about serving the warrants.

MOTHER'S BROKEN RECORD

Dear Helen: They say humans have the highest intelligence of living creatures, I'm not so sure. I trained my dog to do almost anything I say in three months. Yet I've been as repetitious as a broken record with our sons for night on to 10 years, and it's just beginning to penetrate that they must comb their hair, wash their whole faces and brush their teeth each morning and evening, even if I am not behind them breathing fire.

If the human brain is so great, how come it takes so long to make a break-through?—OVER AND OVER AGAIN

Dear O and OA: The human brain—especially that of a small boy—is also resistive to what it considers unnecessary. If your broken record on the hair, face and teeth theme is paying off after only 10 years—you're lucky!—H.

Dear Helen: I am a heavy smoker. I have heard that hypnosis can stop the habit. Do you know anything about this?—HOPEFUL

Dear Hopeful: Only what I have read—that hypnosis sometimes helps, maybe, but you have to be the right kind of subject. In any event, be sure and check this out with your doctor before you do anything in this direction.

If any of my readers have had personal experience with hypnosis as a possible cure for excessive smoking or drinking, I'll be happy to print some of your comments.—H.

Dear Helen: Some time back a girl wrote complaining about her military father who treated the family like the Troops, demanding absolute rigid obedience, even to a morning line-up and dismissal, fines for talking over three minutes on the telephone, and fearsome boyfriend inspection. You agreed this treatment was too much.

I, too, had a Marine Corp Major for a father. He demanded personal perfection from us and tolerated nothing less. He contended that a boy afraid to pass his inspection you'd better believe it was tough—wasn't worth the time wasted on him. I was sure I wouldn't survive his first degree interrogations to ever go on a second date, but it never stopped surprising me just how many times he was right.

At 15, I loathed his demands. At 25, I find I can maintain a home, two small children, and a sloppy husband in a fraction of the time it takes my less well prepared contemporaries. Those well-installed habits never stop serving me in every phase of life. I am increasingly glad of the regimentation I once despised. Too bad more fathers don't demand these things from their sons also, so their future wives wouldn't have to spend their time as chamber maids and nags.

My mother used to say, as she was busy backing my father up, "Just think of all the character he's building."—NOT RAISED BY THE PSYCHOLOGY BOOK

Dear NOT: What builds character in one builds resentment in another—and breaks the spirit of the third. To each his own—and I still like relaxed discipline best.—H.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — "Can you hear me?" was a short special program on ABC Monday night—a brief, enlightening and hopeful demonstration of the remarkable work of teaching the deaf to talk.

What could easily have dropped into sentimentality—showing a clinic of very young deaf children learning to communicate—was actually a picture and word story told with understatement and enormous

Lester Cooper's 30 minute-old Beth Ann Bull and her mother from the moment the child entered a clinic in Los Angeles until, weeks of intense work later, the little girl with the thoughtful eyes and radiant smile finally spoke her first word—first step out of her "world of silence," as narrator Ingrid Bergman called it.

One of the most moving sequences caught by the camera was during a preliminary testing period when some high-pitched electronic noises pierced Beth Ann's consciousness. Her little face first looked startled, then puzzled and finally pleased.

Shown too were the gentle, patient members of the clinic staff as they worked with both the children and mothers, demonstrating the techniques of teaching lip reading.

Mrs. Bull and Beth Ann's tutors worked for weeks to get the child to say her first word. The narrator explained that it was sometimes necessary to phrase a single word more than 10,000 times—repeat 10,000 times before the relationship of the word is established.

"The Carol Burnett show" on

CBS is the only late evening variety show on the networks that does not have to back the competition from feature movies—repeat 10,000 times before the relationship of lip movements and word is established.

"The Carol Burnett show" on CBS is the only late evening variety show on the networks that does not have to back the competition from feature movies. And, like all variety hours, it has its ups and downs.

The Monday night program, one of the up hours, was lavishly endowed with sketches, and most of them came off pretty well even if Carol did seem to be constantly cast as an embattled housewife.

The series, while not quite in the hit class, is doing well enough to be practically certain of at least a second season.

Child Hit and Killed by Car

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Terry Vaughn Ranson, 6, daughter of Mrs. Rosie Willis of North Little Rock, was killed Tuesday when she was struck by a car driven by Anna Marie Pruss, 26, of North Little Rock, police said.

Police Were Little Late

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Two bandits held up a sandwich shop in Baltimore early Sunday and then, while the waitress telephoned police, walked next door and held up a second shop. The waitress, Helen Carr, said a patrol car arrived in about four minutes. But by that time, the holdup men had escaped with $49 from the two stores.

It was the second holdup in two days at the shop where Mrs. Carr works, and the 18th there in the past seven years.

LET'S TALK ABOUT MOVIES

By VELDA SEAMANS

Tonight is the last showing of "Matchless," with Patrick O'Neal and Ira Furstenberg. A fast moving spy story.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday is another of Walt Disney's hits, the "Gnome-Mobile" with Walter Brennan. At the age of 73 and 44 years in the movies, Mr. Brennan says this is the most enjoyable comedy roll he has ever played. He says acting is both his hobby and his work. Ed Wynn and those "Mary Poppins" kids are also in this laugh-a-minute film, "Gnome-Mobile." The second feature is Disk-O-Tek, Holiday.

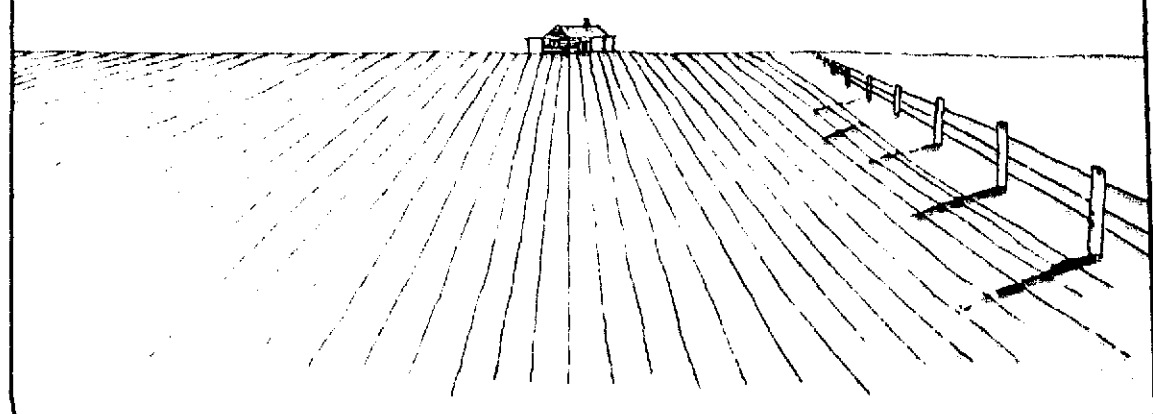

Late Show Saturday, Sunday and Monday is the year's most amazing adventure film, "One Million Years B.C." Thrill to the unusual, as cave-men and their women battle the giant savage beast that roams the earth, "One Million Years B.C."

Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the Dixie is Rock Hudson and George Peppard in "Tobruk," A war adventure picture, the story of the most daring commando raid of World War II. Second feature is a romantic comedy starring Marlon Brando and Sophia Loren.

"Hawaii" with Jane Andrews and Max Von Sydow starts next Tuesday at the Saenger. This is a special limited roadshow engagement.

AAU Hopes Feud Can Be Settled

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Amateur Athletic Union moguls are pessimistic about a settlement of the feud with the National Collegiate Athletic Association over track and field in this country.

But the big brass of the AAU, which is holding its 80th annual convention here, don't want to conjecture about the effect the dispute will have on the U.S. track team for the 1968 Olympics at Mexico City.

"We can't make heads or tails of the issue," said AAU President David Matlin.

"And if I don't know the issues, the only inference I can get is they (the NCAA) are out to destroy the AAU," added Matlin. "I don't know what they want but if they want to destroy the AAU, then they are off their rocker."

AAU Executive Director Donald F. Huff told a news conference Tuesday that the NCAA "has a large smokescreen out."

"It's a bold power grab," he added, "but they've got smoke around it."

Matlin said the dispute will be discussed at the meeting here, which runs through Sunday, "but all we can do is talk about it."

The federal government has established a sports arbitration committee to air the problem. Both Matlin and Huff said they felt the NCAA and its U.S. Track and Field Federation would not abide by the committee's decision.

"No, we are not bitter," said Matlin, in reply to a question, "we are disappointed. We don't think that the attitude of the NCAA officials is conducive to settling this thing."

Matlin said he'd like to sit down personally with NCAA President Marcus Plant and talk over the dispute.

Owners Asked to Study Grid Injuries

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — National Football League owners are being urged to dip in their pockets and finance an athletic research institute to study the cause and possible solution of injuries which are crippling many of the game's top stars.

F. L. "Moose" Doty, trainer, and Dr. James E. Nixon, team physician, both of the Philadelphia Eagles, have submitted a plan they are prepared to implement if they can get the go-ahead from the owners.

The idea of such an institute came to light today in a discussion with Doty about the many injuries, especially to knees and the Achilles tendon, which have held low-outstanding players this season.

There have been 18 players sidelined for the season at various stages because of knee injuries, and at least four others are victims of torn Achilles tendons. Broken arms, legs, elbows, and back injuries are others that have forced out valuable properties all over the league.

"Take the Achilles tendon injury for example," said Doty. "In my experience as a trainer I can remember only two, one to Bob St. Clair at San Francisco and the other to Alan Ameche at Baltimore."

"This season we have had such injuries to Fred Whittingham of New Orleans, Rosey Carter of the Rams, Elijah Pitts of Green Bay, and Harry Wilson of the Eagles. Why this outbreak of Achilles tendon tears?"

Likes Army Over Navy in Final Go

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Oh, it's a short, short time from September to December and the days grow short for making college football selections.

In fact, the abbreviated schedule this Saturday is the last of the regular season. Last week's average was 690; the season mark is 727.

This week's picks, all games Saturday: Army over Navy: The Cadets balanced attack will offset the Midshipmen's fine passing combination of John Cartwright to Rob Taylor. It should be close, though.

Alabama over Auburn: The Tide will roll in a warmup for the Cotton Bowl.

Miami, Fla. over Florida: The Hurricanes will bounce back from their setback by Notre Dame.

Tennessee over Vanderbilt: The Volunteers will pile it up at the expense of the Commodores while prepping for the Orange Bowl.

Oklahoma over Oklahoma State: The Sooners, also named to the Orange Bowl, are two-touchdown choices. It will probably be closer.

Skipping over the others: Holy Cross over Boston College; Mississippi over Mississippi State; Rice over Baylor; Louisville over Tulsa; Utah over Hawaii; Southern Methodist over Texas Christian.

Rocket Cager Cracks Record in Scoring

Bob Bass knows what to do when a league record is within reach.

Bass is coach of the Denver Rockets in the American Basketball Association. In the last two minutes of Tuesday night's game against the Oakland Oaks, he told his players to feed Larry Jones since Jones had an opportunity to set an ABA single-game scoring record.

Jones went on to tally 52 points as the Rockets won 126-108 for their third straight triumph at home. Jones broke the previous record of 49 set by Laverna Tate of Oakland with a layup 25 seconds from the final whistle. He got his final basket with eight seconds on the clock.

Part, still the ABA's leading scorer was high for the Oaks as he saw his record erased from the book.

Lucky Moreland broke loose for eight points in the last four minutes to spark New Orleans to a 106-99 home victory over Pittsburgh. Anaheim won on the road, beating the New Jersey Americans 110-104 in the other scheduled ABA game.

Moreland finished with 22 for New Orleans, two less than his teammate Doug Moe. Barry Lawford topped Pittsburgh with 26.

Cat Cagers Given Chance to Surprise

BY RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Not rated too highly on the Region 4-AA pre-season from charts, the Hope Bobcats could be a surpriser when the nets begin popping for the 1967-68 season.

Head coach Joe Austin's forces posted a respectable 15-11 mark in Austin's first year at HHS, including a worksheet in 4-AA, good enough for fourth in the conference round-robin.

This season Region 4-AA has been expanded from nine to twelve schools, and roundball coaches got together and split the district into two sections, the East and the West. Each team will participate in a double round robin in its own section, and will do battle twice with each of two teams of the other section, comprising a sum total of 14 district games for each team.

No one team can be figured to dominate either division, but on the basis of past performances Smackover, Magnolia, and Crossett should rule the Eastern roost with Fairview, Magnolia, and Hope rated close to the top in the West. Other teams in the West are Arkadelphia, Camden Lincoln, and Texarkana Washington, while the spollers of the East are Warren, El Dorado Washington, and Camden.

The split league should provide a more exciting brand of ball this year, in the absence of the big men who have dominated 4-AA play since the inaugural giant of several years back, James Chancellor of Malvern. Chancellor presently is a starter at Ouachita Baptist in Arkadelphia, and his hook shot form close in has proven death to his opponents in a close game.

Top performers around 4-AA who are back for the 67-68 campaign are: Mike Holloway of Smackover, a fine driver and out side shooter who averaged about 20 points for the Bucks last year. Dicky Bush of Fairview, and outstanding rebounder with catlike prowess around the basket; Mike Reynolds of Camden, a strong cornerman for the Panthers who can also match the best on the backboards, and Mac Stroud, a tough playmaker from Malvern with agility and plenty of quickness, as well as scoring ability.

As for the Hope Bobcats, Coach Joe Austin's success Formula will depend almost entirely on the graduates of the Junior Varsity and a few returnees. Four lettermen and two starters are back, and they must form the nucleus before games are won.

Although possessing no big man, the Cats do have Dwight Galloway, a senior at 6-1 who can occasionally dunk the ball. Much help must be received at the front line positions, and even though many of the candidates are seniors, they still remain unproven.

Among the more promising are John Henley, 6-2 Monty Garner 6-0, Terry Hair, 6-2, and Larry East, 5-11. Mike Galloway a returning starter. Backing up in the pivot will be Jim Singleton, a 6-5 junior who has shown much improved coordination this fall, playing end on the football team.

In the backcourt the Bobcats are notably weak, but this department could rank up with the best if a scoring punch from the out side is developed. Wayne Norvell 5-11, Richard Sallee 6-0 and Don Middlebrooks 6-0 are the most experienced, with assistance coming from Johnny Johnson, 5-10 Rick Putman, 5-9, and Danny Reynolds, 5-10.

Most likely the Bobcats will work on the fast-break offense, but the tenacious defending has to be backed by a strong scoring threat. East is the most prolific scorer Hope has, though, and only the development of a good bevy of shooters could bring championship to Hope.

The Bobcats open their schedule on December 1, playing host to the El Dorado Wildcats of Class AAA in Jones Field House, Hope's home stadium.

Cowboys to Go After the Title

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys will try to wrap up the Capital Division of the Eastern Conference in the National Football League Sunday with a victory over the Baltimore Colts.

If the Cowboys come through, Jim Myers says Tony Liscio, John Niland, Mike Connelly, Leon Donohue and Ralph Neely should be given assists.

Myers is an assistant coach in charge of offensive linemen and he says Tony, John, Mike, Leon and Ralph are a "breed of their own. They have to be big, fast

Beban Gets Coveted Heisman

By BOB MYERS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — The name of Gary Joseph Beban, quarterback, UCLA, was duly registered today as the 1967 Heisman Memorial Trophy winner, so selected by 1,033 writers and broadcasters as the outstanding college football player of the year.

Beban, a senior, accepted the award in typical Beban fashion. He was pleased, naturally. He was also modest, generous in wishing he could share it with his teammates and he was just as poised about the whole thing as he had been in leading UCLA to national prominence during his three years at Bruinville.

Tommy Prothro, his coach, was equally delighted. It was the second Heisman Trophy winner he has coached. Terry Baker at Oregon State in 1962 was the other.

There was a slight difference in reaction by coach and player. Gary called his folks in Redwood City, Calif., his girl friend, unidentified and location not divulged, and his faculty adviser to see how his grades were stacking up. He's a B average student majoring in history.

Prothro from his office at UCLA started to call his wife to tell her the good news. Suddenly he stopped and confessed, "I'm real upset, I can't even remember my own home phone number."

Beban won the Heisman over formidable opposition. He polled 369 first place votes for 1,968 points. His closest challengers were halfback O.J. Simpson of the University of Southern California with 261 first place votes and 1,772 points, and Leroy Keyes, Purdue, 278 first and 1,366 points.

Beban, at a packed news conference in the Regents Room on campus, was asked the familiar questions, High and low points of his career?

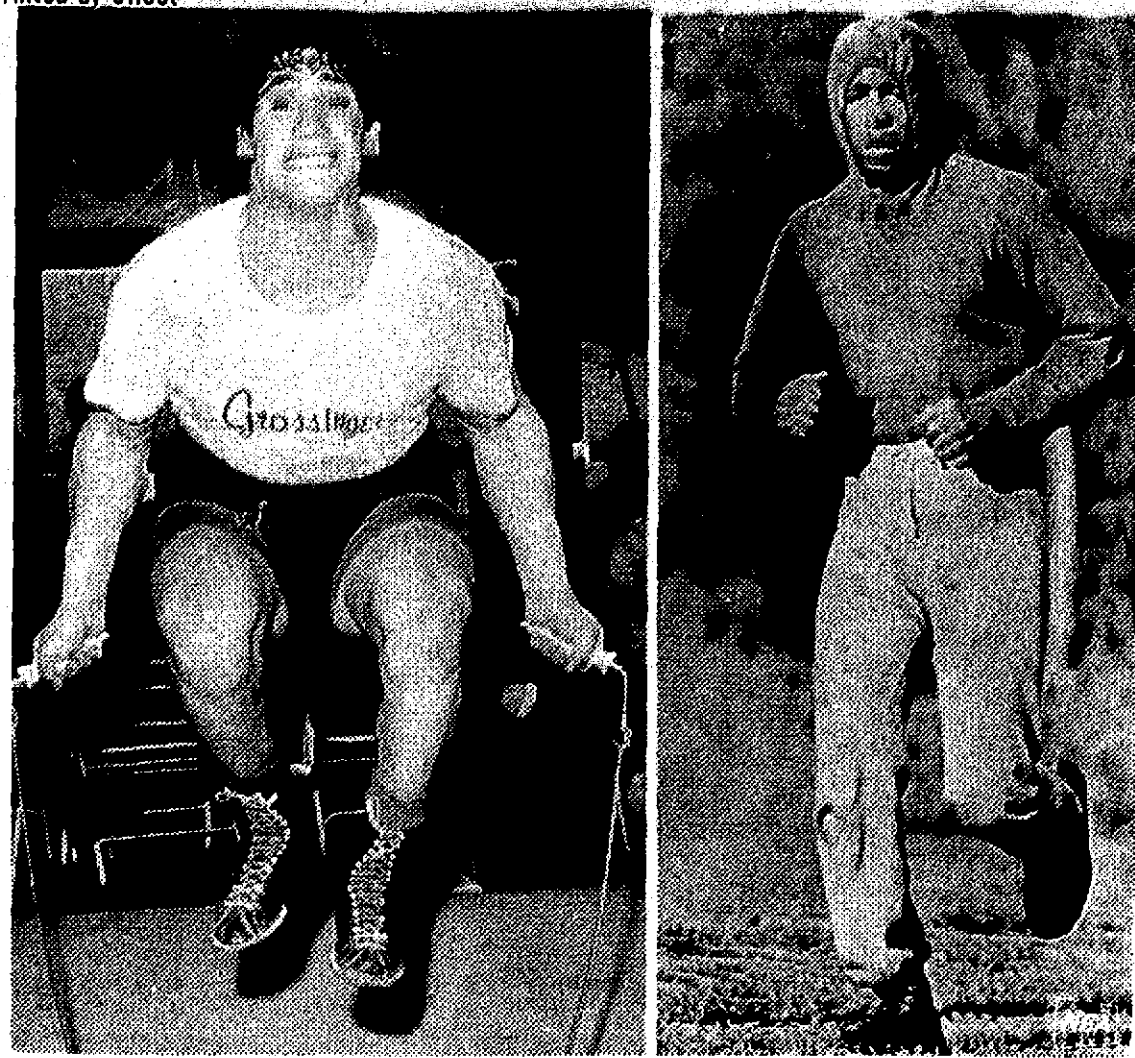

"The high points were beating USC and winning the Rose Bowl over Michigan State as a sophomore. Then going 9-1 as a junior. The low points? That's easy. The loss to USC two weeks ago and then to Syracuse last Saturday."

And intelligent?

"They like praise and recognition," Myers said. "But they learn to go unnoticed. They have pride in themselves. You can't get along without them."

Baltimore is the leading offensive club with an average of 380.4 yards. Green Bay tops the defense, yielding an average of 226.6

Jordan Named Pro Player of the Week

By JACK DONOVAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — In the world of a middle linebacker—professional football species—only the hardest and the smartest endure.

His weekend exercise in physical violence usually draws less attention than a border incident between two emerging African nations.

In short, he goes unnoticed except by rival coaches and players and teammates who recognize his special skills.

An inhabitant of this world is Lee Roy Jordan of the Dallas Cowboys, The Associated Press' National Football League Defensive Player of the Week.

"This is a real thrill for me," Jordan said. "I feel I have less chances than others for this being a linebacker."

Jordan, who comes, appropriately, from a small Alabama farming community named Excel, was cited for his 13 tackles, one pass interception and two passes broken up in the Cowboys' 46-21 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Thanksgiving Day.

The man from Excel has excelled as a fullback in high school, as a center-linebacker for the University of Alabama and for most of five years with the Cowboys, who drafted him No. 1 in 1963.

"He is a brilliant kid," said Dallas defensive line coach Dick Nolan. "They don't come any tougher."

"He is not the biggest in the world, but his ability to move down the line to find the holes and find the ball is outstanding. One of his greatest assets is his quick movement."

Leroy Kelly Wins Honors for His Play

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Has anybody seen Kelly?

The Washington Redskins really didn't get a good look at him until after Sunday's game, which the Cleveland Browns won 42-37.

During the game Leroy Kelly ran around, through and over the Redskins' defense in a performance that made him today The Associated Press' National Football League Offensive Player of the Week.

The fourth-year pro raced 42 yards for Cleveland's first touchdown and then rambled 21 yards for their final TD.

In all, he carried the ball 19 times for 163 yards to boost his league leading rushing total to 1,034 yards—a 5.5 per carry average—and became the seventh NFL player to reach the 1,000-yard plateau in one season.

Kelly finished second to Chicago's Gale Sayers last season, with 1,141 yards for a 5.5 average.

Top Awards in Boxing Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, former heavyweight champion Joe Louis and manager Gil Clancy were named today to receive the top awards of the Boxing Writers Association.

Ortiz, a 31-year-old Puerto Rican-born New Yorker, was selected as Fighter of the Year. Louis, 53, was singled out for long and meritorious service to boxing, and Clancy, 47, was picked as Manager of the Year. He handles middleweight champion Emile Griffith, among others.

Ortiz will receive the Edward J. Neil Memorial Award, A master boxer and a solid puncher, Ortiz is a two-time winner of the lightweight crown and a former junior welterweight champion.

He holds an 11-1 record in lightweight title fights and has successfully defended the 135-pound division five times in the last two years. He trounced Panama's classy Ismael Laguna in 15 rounds last Aug. 16 after stopping Sugar Ramos in the fourth round earlier in the year.

Louis will receive the James J. Walker Memorial Award, joining the famed Jack Dempsey in an exclusive group of two. They are the only two fighters to be named for both the Neil and Walker awards.

Louis was voted the Neil Trophy for 1941. Dempsey was chosen for the Neil Award in 1940 and the Walker Award in 1957.

In earlier years the Neil Award was not voted exclusively to fighters. But since 1946, only fighters have won it.

Louis won the heavyweight title in 1936 by knocking out James J. Braddock in the eighth round. He defended the crown a record 25 times.

Clancy will receive the Al Buck Award, named in honor of the well known boxing writer of the New York Post who died recently.

The Neil Award is named for The Associated Press' sports writer who was killed while reporting the Spanish Civil War. The Walker award honors the late Mayor of New York who authored the boxing laws of New York in 1920, putting the sport under the supervision of a commission.

East Dist. Considered Very Strong

BY RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Wondering what it will be like on the other side of the map? Or rather, the Eastern division of Region 4-AA for the 67-68 season? Friends, you ain't seen nothing yet.

Injuries could play a big part in the title race, of which Smackover, Magnolia, Crossett, Warren, Camden, El Dorado Washington (gosh that's everybody) are the leading contenders. At this point one could imagine that anyone could win the 4-AA East trophy, and it wouldn't be a surprise.

From the little old town between Camden and El Dorado, the home of the memorable Clyde Scott and of late, the brothers Burnett of the Arkansas Razorbacks, may I introduce the Battlin' Bucks from Smackover. Tutored by Wayne Freppon, this roundball five is horrendous enough to scare anyone off the court before the Ho-o-way, and a whole mixed assortment of the tall and short, fat and skinny, good and extremely good. Bobcat coach Joe Austin should breathe easier by not having to play this bunch.

Should be, that the rest of the East should proclaim this a rebuilding year, and take the easy way out. Right? Wrong! When you can claim four returning starters and a whole host of past letter-winners, you won't settle for second best. In other words, look out for the Crossett Eagles, unless they begin to feel the cold and fly south.

These birds should also be the tallest team in all of 4-AA. Now may we mix in with the recipe a little Magnolia, Camden, El Dorado, Washington, and those Warren Lumberjacks. Put together, this crowd should pull enough upsets to amke us forget the football season just ended. Only one word could describe the way that Region 4-AA sets about basketball, and that is crowd-pleasing. If the fans of the area fail to boost their respective teams with all their attendance this year, then probably they never will.

Florida State Player Is Honored

He couldn't even recognize his teammates at halftime, but a track goes out of its way to make it hard on horsemen," he said.

Racing enthusiasts estimate that some 200 horses are being boarded at horse farms in the Hot Springs area. They say fall meets have ended in Chicago and Detroit, and that other stables are ready to ship their horses to Hot Springs.

Laser said there shouldn't be any connection between the track's allocation of stall space and contract negotiations.

He said that in years past, the stable area had been opened before the contract was signed.

quarter, then Hammond returned to action.

With the ball on State's eight-yard line, Hammond faded back into his own end zone on his first play and passed to Ron Sellers for a 51-yard gain. Two plays later he hit Sellers with a 38-yard TD pass to clinch the victory and win a Calor Bowl bid for the Seminoles.

Region 4-AA Expanded and Split

BY RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

In the ever-expanding league of 4-AA, finally the decision was made to divide the region into two divisions, the East and the West. Since the conference was composed of twelve member schools, the division was equal.

The Hope Bobcats were placed in the Western half, along with powers such as Malvern, Fairview, and Camden Lincoln. Arkadelphia and Texarkana Washington are the other schools, both not expected to have a big year. In the district schedule the double round-robin format will be used, and each squad will twice play two teams from the other side.

Those Fairview Cardinals have a good shot at pacing the West, even in the losing of four starters from last year's state tournament participant. Coached by Pat Foster, the Cards will be drawing heavily from the junior high team of '66, which coasted to the State AA Championship, beaten 4-AA opponent Magnolia 38-22 in the finals at Magnolia last February.

Never forget the Leopards of Malvern High School, because they can easily fool you, as they did last year by upsetting the Bobcats 63-54 in Malvern, a loss that dealt a bad blow to the Cat's title hopes. With coach Carol Danton entering his second year, he will have to depend much on good shooting and percentage rebounding.

Now throw in the Camden Lincoln Bears, who popped the Bobcats 83-61 last year in the Ouachita Baptist Tournament up at Win Rockefeller Stadium in Arkadelphia. The Bears have always possessed an outstanding ability to whoop the sack from 25 feet on out, and that is how they put the Bobcats away last year, hitting on 70 percent of the shots they took in the second quarter.

When you add tournament positions will be clearly up for grabs until the closing day of the district-wide tournament, which will run from February 26 to March 2. The 1967-68 basketball season should provide all the thrills and chills of good quality basketball and every fan is urged to support Hope High Basketball.

Oaklawn Club Balks at Purse Hike

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The Oaklawn Jockey Club apparently has balked at requests for a $65,000 increase in purse money for the 50-day spring racing meet that begins here Feb. 9.

Sam Laser, president of the Arkansas Chapter of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, says in letters to association members that he has been negotiating unsuccessfully for a contract calling for $1,726,020 in purse money.

Purse money during the 45-day meet last spring totaled about $1,661,000.

J. Sweeney Grant, the Oaklawn Park general manager, was attending the National Thoroughbred Association convention in Washington Tuesday night and couldn't be reached for comment.

Laser also complained that Oaklawn hadn't opened the stable areas yet to horsemen. He said the park's refusal to allocate stalls reflected an "unreasonable and arbitrary attitude."

"It is difficult enough for horsemen to show a profit when they receive cooperation of track management, but it is almost impossible to do so when a track goes out of its way to make it hard on horsemen," he said.

Racing enthusiasts estimate that some 200 horses are being boarded at horse farms in the Hot Springs area. They say fall meets have ended in Chicago and Detroit, and that other stables are ready to ship their horses to Hot Springs.

Laser said there shouldn't be any connection between the track's allocation of stall space and contract negotiations.

He said that in years past, the stable area had been opened before the contract was signed.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

(Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

my mouth? What can be done for it?

A—A metallic taste may be caused by excessive smoking, the action of an acid saliva on metallic dental fillings, sleeping with your mouth open or taking certain drugs that contain a metal iron. A bitter taste may be caused by excessive belching, neglected teeth, certain drugs, a hiatus hernia or ruptured diaphragm, or a chronic infection in the mouth, nose or throat. The treatment requires the elimination of all possible sources of the abnormal taste.

Q—For two years I've had an unbearable taste in my mouth and odor in my nose. Is there any way to get rid of them?

A—These symptoms are a great source of worry to elderly persons. They may be caused by a chronic infection in the nose, throat, gums or lungs; heavy smoking, or the excessive use of mouthwashes. Frequently, worried preoccupation with the possibility of having bad breath aggravates the condition or at least its effect on your equanimity.

Q—I am just getting over an attack of myasthenia. Is this a dangerous disease?

A—Myasthenia gravis, a disease characterized by general weakness, is one of many diseases for which there is no cure but which can be controlled with proper treatment. Neostigmine, which requires a doctor's prescription, or a related drug is usually effective.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

The unlucky expert looked so dejected that we made the mistake of letting him inflict his latest tale of woe on us. We will never learn to dread him.

Here is the lament. In last night's duplicate we reached six diamonds with little or no trouble. East worried about his opening lead and finally produced the six of spades. East won with the ace after I played the king from dummy.

He thought for some time before shifting to the four of trumps.

"He may have thought for a long time, but I thought a good while longer. Finally I decided to take an unusual trump finesse and played my deuce of trumps. When dummy's seven won the trick I led and ruffed a spade, played ace and a n o t h e r club and ruffed in dummy. Back to my hand by ruffing another spade. Back to dummy with a second club ruff. One more spade ruff and I drew trumps and made the rest of the tricks because dummy's spades were set up. If I hadn't finessed the trump to get the extra entry to dummy, the ruff would have fallen on me."

We didn't quite understand that trump finesse. Maybe he was just practicing his finesses to see if they were going to work. All he had to do to make the hand would have been to win the trump in his own hand, play his ace of clubs and ruff a club. Ruff back to his hand with a spade, ruff another club, ruff another spade, draw trumps and discard his last club on a high heart. We asked about this and why he claimed to be unlucky.

He replied: "I never thought of that play, but I still wound up with a bad score. At every other table a club was opened and each other declarer managed to ruff three clubs and wind up with an overtrick by discarding his singleton spade on a heart."

Trades Start In Baseball's Mexican Meet

By CHARLES GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
MEXICO CITY (AP) — Fidel Castro would have been disappointed.

Castro made a speech over radio Havana Monday night criticizing the men gathered in Mexico City for the 66th winter baseball meetings. Some of baseball's most important trades, and the annual player drafts, are made at these meetings.

The Cuban prime minister said it was immoral for baseball men "to buy and sell players as if they were buying Christians to feed to the lions."

The annual player draft Tuesday — in which $936,000 changed hands for the contracts of 72 minor league players — was handled with calm dispatch. Some of the players might feel as if they've been fed to the lions, but most are anxious for an opportunity to play for any major league team which will give them a chance.

Fourteen major league clubs bought the contracts of 72 minor league players for $524,000. Class AAA and AA minor league teams bought the contracts of 49 players for $412,000.

Some familiar names were among those drafted — veteran infielder Chuck Hiller, outfielders Sandy Valdespino, Andy Kosco and George Spriggs and pitcher Joe Moeller. But better-known names such as Dick Radatz, Bo Belinsky, Willie Kirkland and Ed Charles were passed over.

Only three of these selected by the majors were first-year men whose contracts brought the $8,000 minimum. The rest went for $25,000.

The majors drafted seven pitchers, six catchers, six outfielders and four infielders. Minor league teams concentrated on pitchers, drafting a total of 26 hurlers including eight southpaws. They also took eight catchers, 12 infielders of all positions and a pair of outfielders.

Alrod Endricks, a 27-year-old catcher from the Virgin Islands who hit 41 home runs, batted in 112 runs and hit .316 with Jalisco of the Class AAA Mexican League last season, went to Baltimore.

The Chicago Cubs and Houston Astros took three players each while the Yankees, Mets, Atlanta Braves and Minnesota Twins took two each. Oakland, Cleveland, Los Angeles, Washington, Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and Boston took one each while the rest of the major league teams passed.

Buzzy Bavasi, general manager of the Dodgers, might have gotten the best deal. He picked up a man he wanted and saved himself $5,000.

A year ago he bought pitcher Vicente Romo from Mexico City only to find Romo actually belonged to Cleveland. He got a refund, then drafted Romo from Cleveland's Portland farm team for $25,000.

Hiller was picked by Pittsburgh off the roster of Philadelphia's San Diego farm team, Valdespino by Atlanta, Kosco, a top prospect, was drafted by the Yankees off the Vancouver roster. Spriggs, a speedy outfielder on the Columbus farm team in the Pirates' organization, was picked by Boston.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Bob Bundy, 6-foot-8 junior from Richmond, Va., was suspended from the Vanderbilt basketball squad Tuesday night for disciplinary reasons. Coach Roy Skinner declined to elaborate.

Jackson Makes a Big Jump in Scoring

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Tony Jackson, of the New Jersey Americans, made the big move in the American Basketball Association last week, jumping from 11th to fifth place in the list of top scorers.

There was no change in the first four, according to the weekly statistics released by the league Tuesday.

LaVern Tarr, of Oakland, kept the No. 1 spot with an average of 27.0 points, Bob Varga of Dallas is second at 26.2, Connie Hawkins of Pittsburgh third at 23.9 and Doug Moe of New Orleans fourth at 23.4.

Jackson is fifth at 21.4, the former star for St. John's of New York has scored 311 points in his last 11 games.

Mel Daniels of Minnesota kept the lead in rebounds with an average of 16.8. Larry Brown of New Orleans still is No. 1 in assists with an average of 7.3.

Les Selva of Anaheim continued to lead in three-point field goals with 52. Chico Vaughn of Pittsburgh who set a league record of seven in last Sunday's game at Denver is second with 38.

Nances Rushes to the 1,000 Yard Class

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Nance, or Boston's bulldozing fullback went over the 100 yard rushing mark for the second consecutive season by gaining 109 yards Sunday.

Nance has a total of 1,017 yards, 200 ahead of runner-up Mike Garrett of Kansas City. Nance carried for 1,458 yards last season.

Len Dawson, Kansas City Chiefs' quarterback, remained at the top of the passers with a 58.4 completion mark. He has completed 167 of 286 passes for 2,225 yards and 19 touchdowns.

Daryl Lamonica leads the league in TD passes with 21 while Joe Namath of the New York Jets has thrown for the most yardage, 2,869 yards.

Don Maynard, Jets, and Hewitt Dixon, Oakland are tied for the lead in pass receptions with 50 apiece.

In scoring, Jan Stenerud, Chiefs' place kicker, has taken the scoring lead over Gino Cappelletti with 66 points. Cappelletti, of the Boston Patriots, is one point behind.

LBJ Making Moves Purely Political

Those 76ers Also Prove Impressive

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
Philadelphia Coach Alex Hannum was impressed by the New York Knickerbockers, but unfortunately for the Knicks Hannum's 76ers were impressive too.

The Knicks did get top efforts from Dick Barnett, Emette Bryant and Wall Bellamy, but they weren't quite good enough and the 76ers carried off a 110-108 victory at New York.

In other NBA action, the Boston Celtics rallied to beat the Detroit Pistons 118-111, the Seattle SuperSonics edged the Chicago Bulls 111-108, the San Francisco Warriors topped the Baltimore Bullets 117-110 and the Los Angeles Lakers trounced the St. Louis Hawks 134-117.

Anahelm topped New Jersey 110-104, New Orleans defeated Pittsburgh 109-99 and Denver whipped Oakland 126-108 in ABA action.

"I had the feeling in our last home game we were beat physically on the floor," Hannum said. "I told them (the players) we were going to go back to working real hard."

They did too. The 76ers lost 119-114 to Chicago in Philadelphia last Saturday, and Hannum called for a 2½-hour workout.

It looks like the 76ers were headed for another tough workout Tuesday night, for, although they played well, they trailed 91-82 with 10:07 left.

Then Chet Walker, Wally Jones and Luke Jackson went to work. Walker put the 76ers ahead to stay, 104-103 on a layup with 3:01 left, and Jones made it 106-103 25 seconds later. After the Knicks scored, Walker again hit and Jones clinched it with a basket with 51 seconds remaining.

Jackson scored 30 points, Walker 22 and Jones 16. Barnett led all scorers with 32, Bellamy added 22 and Bryant 18.

The Celtics, trailing by as many as 15 points in the first half at Boston and still trailing 96-92 in the fourth quarter, reeled off 13 straight points to take a 105-96 lead and coast home. Havlicek scored 23 on his 24 points in the second half for the Celtics. Dave Bing led Detroit with 24.

Seattle's Tom Meschery sank two field goals and Bob Weiss threw in a pair of free throws in the final minute to give the SuperSonics their victory in Chicago.

Meschery and teammate Walt Hazzard each scored 20. Flynn Robinson got 25 for Chicago.

Nate Thurmond scored 28 points and Al Attles 23 for San Francisco, which led throughout the game at Baltimore except for a brief span early in the second quarter. Gus Johnson scored 24 for Baltimore.

Jockey Has Chance for Elite Group

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — If jockey Jorge Velasquez rides only three-fourths as well today as he did Tuesday, he'll become the third rider in American racing history to boot home 400 winners in one year.

The dapper Panamanian 20-year-old racked up four victories at Tropical Park to move within three winners of the 400 mark.

The only others to do it were Bill Shoemaker, who won 465 races in 1953, and Bill Hartack, who won 417 in 1955.

Velasquez came to this country in 1965 and has finished in the money on nearly half of the 3,753 horses he has ridden.

HOPE (ARK) STAR, Printed by Offset always be remembered President Johnson not only has a strong political sense but also a vivid dramatic one, too.

It should be no surprise if 1968 turns out to be a very dramatic year.

Johnson and the North Vietnamese, out of the same set of circumstances, have exactly the same reason for wishing for exactly opposite results in the war next year.

The reason is the criticism piling up around Johnson for his conduct of the war from all directions, including many within his own Democratic party. Because the criticism can have a tremendous effect, it is not far-fetched to expect startling events in the months ahead.

Johnson sees his popularity and public confidence in him at a low level. Already some forces are at work within the Democratic party to keep him from being renominated in 1968.

No one knows better than Johnson that his chances for renomination and re-election to the presidency are in jeopardy if the war drags on through all of next year and the criticism continues to grow.

(Only Monday it was learned that Charles F. Frankel, assistant secretary of state for educational and cultural affairs, resigned, according to the Columbia Broadcasting System, in protest against Johnson's Vietnam policies.) The fact that he is President is reason enough for Johnson to get the war over with as fast as possible. His political future gives him an added reason for wanting to.

Nothing could possibly help Johnson as much politically as a smashing defeat of the North Vietnamese before next August's Democratic nominating convention or, at the least, some weeks before the November election.

On the other side of the coin are the North Vietnamese.

Even if they felt themselves slipping badly in 1968 it is not hard to imagine they would try to drag the war on through the whole year in the hope Johnson would be eliminated from politics and his successor would be anxious to make concessions outright defeat for them could not obtain.

Johnson and his two closest advisers on the war — McNamara and Secretary of State Dean Rusk — have all been on the receiving end of the criticism dumped on the administration for the war.

The President has been firm in his refusal to bow to the critics and take a softer stand in Vietnam. Both McNamara and Rusk are reportedly tired from their duties which began when President John F. Kennedy appointed them in 1961.

But if the two men should step

Charge Reduced in Murder Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge William J. Kirby, saying the recommendation displeased him, granted a request Tuesday from Prosecutor Richard B. Adkisson in reducing a charge from first-degree to second-degree murder in the case of a man charged with slaying a Vietnam war veteran.

Adkisson also recommended a 21-year sentence with 18 years suspended for John L. Wilkins, 24, charged in the death of Sgt. Seth Joslin, 34, who was fatally shot Jan. 23.

Kirby said the recommendation was equivalent to giving Wilkins a one-year sentence for manslaughter since convicts are eligible for parole after serving one-third of a term.

aside within a relatively short time of each other it is almost certain to be interpreted as an effort by Johnson to pacify his critics a bit while still continuing the war.

If these two men go, it is not unlikely some other highly placed ones will follow. If that happens then by convention time the war, except for Johnson, will be in the hands of a new team.

At first glance that might seem a political benefit to Johnson. Actually, it might have the opposite effect on the public

The Elegant Revolution in Gas cooking is here!

CALORIC® 1968 GAS RANGES

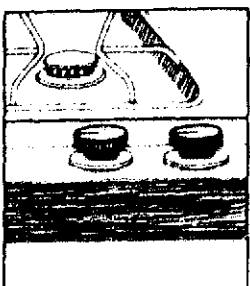

ELEGANT!... You won't find styling that comes anywhere close to these new 1968 Calorics. They've been redesigned from top to bottom... And what colors! olivetone, coppertone, and gleaming white!

REVOLUTIONARY!... No more pilot "lights." Stainless steel utensil supports, black glass "hide and see" oven windows... More room everywhere, from cooking area to broiler to storage space! Take a closer look and you'll want to buy right now!...

FLAMELESS PILOTS!... Caloric calls them a "Solid State Ultrasonic Ignition System"... Lights each burner, including oven broiler, at finger touch!

Pilots can't "go out" because there is no flame to go out! Helps keep kitchens cool!

EASY-READ FRONT MOUNTED CONTROLS. Burner controls are ideally located at front of cooking surface, and do not steal precious cooktop room. Burners are tri-seal, too, with three burner settings for controlled cooking. Full "on", keep boil, or keep warm positions. Stay cool controls offer 1,001 heat settings — the exact heat you want, instantly!

STAINLESS STEEL UTENSIL SUPPORTS. And Unitized Top Burner Energy System. No cast iron burner grates! No messy burner bowls! New design allows you to slide pots and pans back and forth without lifting.

No more "maze of tubes" to catch dirt and grease below cooktop. Gas flame reaches the top burners via conduits sealed into the smooth porcelain surface. Makes cleanups a breeze — and no adjustment needed, ever!

HARVEST SIZE "HIDE AND SEE" OVENS. Handsome black glass oven broiler window! Lets you see what you're cooking, but even interior "disappears" when light goes off.

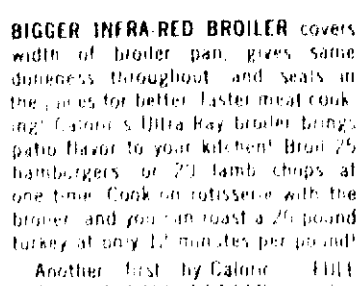

Now a big 24 inch oven in 36 inch as well as 30 inch ranges! An important "first" by Caloric!

OVEN DOORS come off for easy cleaning. They're ventilated so doors stay cool! Bake or roast on TIMED COOK & KEEP WARM oven system, at the same time in both ovens of double-deckers. A "first" by Caloric!

"LADY LEVEL" COOKTOP. Two inches lower than counter level. Non-clog "flying saucer" burner caps drop and lock in place to seal off cooktop. Easy clean spill well holds full cup of spillover!

6 BURNERS on several models! MORE ROOM between double ovens. 13 1/2 inches for ample "storing space" when oversized pots are used.

BIGGER INFRA-RED BROILER covers width of broiler pan, gives same darkness throughout and seals in the juices for better, faster meat cooking!

Caloric's Ultra-Ray broiler brings patio food to your kitchen! Broil 25 hamburgers, or 25 lamb chops, at one time. Cook on rotisserie with the broiler, and you can roast a 25 pound turkey in only 12 minutes per pound!

Another "first" by Caloric! FULL WIDTH SLIDING DRAWERS in 30 AND 36 inch wide ranges!

NOTHING ELEGANT ABOUT THE PRICE!

There's a new Caloric Gas Range waiting for you, whatever you plan to spend. Christmas Gift? Why not — for yourself, grandmother, or daughter?

Buy new, elegant, revolutionary 1968 Caloric Gas Ranges for a small down payment on low monthly payments on your Arkla Gas Bill.

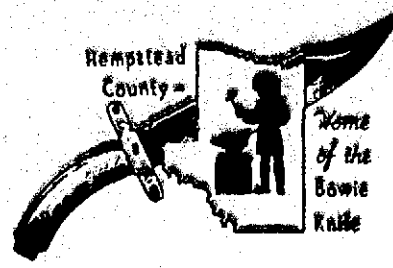

You'll like being a part of the Caloric elegant revolution.

Current events are causing Americans to have some misgivings about their traditional policy of relieving oppression in foreign lands.

Our arm-chair Liberals talked the American voter into believing Batista was a dictator and Castro a patriotic Cuban reformer—and we woke up a few years later to discover that what ever else he did Batista maintained law and order and kept Cuba friendly to the United States, while Castro disclosed himself as a hard-core Communist and our implacable enemy.

The French were in South Viet Nam claiming their continued presence was required to halt Communist aggression from the North, but our arm-chair Liberals cried "Nonsense" and blocked U.S. munitions from being sent to the aid of France's troops there. France thereupon abandoned her old colony—and now our own men and money and prestige are at risk in the same land fighting the same enemy from the North.

Our Anglo-Saxon brotherhood in Great Britain aren't any smarter than ourselves. Formerly they held the Mediterranean island of Cyprus as a dependency, but then declared it an independent nation. Most of the island was inhabited by Greeks, who persecuted the Turkish minority and threatened to have the island annexed by neighboring Greece. As a result the world is threatened by war between Turkey and Greece.

Just another example of people being given independence before they had proved themselves competent for home-rule in the empty name of Democracy.

The repeated shock of such disenchantments is showing us the difference between theory and practice. We open our mouth for a joyful "Yes" to every call for help from the distressed peoples of the earth—and the next year or so all we get is an endless procession of demands for money, munitions, and American troops, from every quarter to which we gave the slightest encouragement.

Every nation has trouble enough without borrowing trouble abroad. Britain at least has the excuse that she had to get out of Cyprus, and Aden, too, because her colonial empire has vanished and she no longer has the money with which to patrol the world to enforce law and order.

Cautious Americans are thinking if we don't begin minding our own business pretty soon we'll be in the same shape as Britain. We've got our key words mixed up. We've been saying "Yes" first and "No" afterward. A firm "No" to begin with looks like the salvation of the one nation in this world which is actually independent and means to remain so.

Road May Start at Texarkana

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — Construction of a proposed western Arkansas turnpike probably would start with stretches from Texarkana to the Louisiana line and from Fort Smith to the Missouri border, the Palmer Media Group reported Tuesday.

PMG quoted a source "close to the Western Arkansas Development Association" as saying that if the turnpike were approved, it would be easier to obtain quick financing if construction were divided into sections.

State Income Tax Down $6.5 Million

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The director of the state Administration Department reported today that state income tax collections for this month were $6.5 million less than the amount collected last November.

Julian Hogan, who has warned of a financial pinch, said collections for the month were $3,776,933 compared to $10,299,634 a year ago.

Fiscal authorities weren't hopeful of matching last November's collections because at that time the state was enjoying a windfall caused by the implementation of the withholding system, but they hoped this month's collection would be about $6 or $7 million.

Living Costs Rose During Past Month

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in October, mainly because of higher prices for new automobiles, clothing and services, the government reported today.

Food prices dropped two-tenths of one per cent, but this was less than seasonal, the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

In its annual evaluation of automobile prices, the bureau said new car prices went up with introduction of the 1968 model. Manufacturers' prices averaged just 2 per cent above a year ago, after allowance for net quality improvements in 1968 models. The balance of the retail price increase was attributed to smaller dealer discounts and trade-in allowances and higher sales taxes in certain states as well as higher freight charges.

The actual increase in manufacturers' prices for cars averaged $87.54. The bureau said that $29.65 of this increase should be attributed to safety improvements and $11.20 to changes designed to reduce the output of air pollutants.

AP&L Seeks Okay on Atom Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Arkansas Power & Light Co. submitted an application with the Atomic Energy Commission today for permission to build its nuclear generating station near Russellville, Ark.

AP&L has obtained options on about 1,100 acres of land west of Russellville for the $140 million, 850,000-kilowatt unit. The Arkansas Public Service Commission already has approved the project.

A review by the AEC technical staff, the Advisory Committee on Reactor Safeguards and a public hearing before an Atomic Safety and Licensing Board are expected to require about nine months. Construction would be started as soon as the AEC issued a construction permit.

The company plans to start operations Dec. 31, 1972. Fuel loading is scheduled for completion by July 1972 with the reactor ready for final testing by September 1972.

Good Breakfast Is Key to Getting Those Office Promotions

History shows that man has had his problems and difficulties since the beginning, the Rev. Everett Vinson, pastor of First Methodist Church, told Hope Kiwanis club Tuesday in comparing present day gloom with that of our founding forefathers.

"But we can solve our problems just as men have done in the dark days of the past, if men will turn to honest, integrity, greater character and patriotism. "We need big men in government, men who will not steal or waste our assets in a search for more votes, but men of character, men of honesty, integrity and God-fearing men who put country ahead of self," the Rev. Mr. Vinson went on to say.

Next Secretary of Defense Must Show His Authority Early

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The next secretary of defense will have to establish his authority early.

The armed services, tamed by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, are likely to test his successor's mettle.

The new Pentagon chief also may have to face a Congress bent on showing him it is boss. For nearly seven years, Congress has smarted under what some members have called McNamara's arrogance and "know-it-all" attitude.

The next defense chief also will inherit vexing problems from McNamara, among them the Vietnam war and the still troubled F-111 fighter plane project, once known as the TFX.

McNamara also will leave behind him a fundamental budget reform which is his monument. That budget approach, which he installed and enforced on the services in 1961, probably will continue to operate to suppress service bickering over the split-up of defense dollars.

It is this budget reform, among others, that McNamara has claimed is "driven into the bedrock" of the huge military establishment and will remain after him.

He also brought about fundamental alterations in basic national defense strategy, switching from reliance on massive nuclear retaliation to a more flexible ability to meet Communist threats at every level of war, from insurgency on up.

McNamara's philosophy, as he spelled it out to The Associated Press some years ago, was to establish a single final authority over the enormously complex defense establishment. "Whoever is head of the department should run it," McNamara said. "The head of any organization ought to place himself in position to make decisions and to stand behind them."

McNamara, working 12-hour days, has made hundreds of separate decisions, involving billions of dollars, in personal item-by-item reviews of military budget proposals each year.

River Bridge Plan Unveiled

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Army Engineers unveiled plans Tuesday for a $5,370,000, four-lane bridge over the Arkansas River here.

The bridge would replace the present Main Street Bridge, which the Engineers say would block barge traffic because it provides too little horizontal clearance.

The cost of replacing the present two-lane bridge would be paid by the federal government as part of the $1.2 billion Arkansas River navigation project, they here.

Cong Troops Attack, 65 Left Dead

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — Waves of Viet Cong troops assaulted a government district headquarters near the Cambodian border for 5½ hours today and overran some of the 200 defenders before jet fighters strafed and bombed the Reds into retreat.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said 65 enemy bodies were found inside and nearby the perimeter of the district headquarters compound at Bo Duc, 80 miles north of Saigon.

He said 15 government soldiers were killed and 19 wounded.

Simultaneous with the ground attack only three miles from the Cambodian border, the Viet Cong shelled a government outpost four miles to the south and a U.S. Special Forces camp 10 miles to the south. Government casualties were reported light in those attacks, and there was no report of U.S. casualties.

The attack at Bo Duc continued a pattern of scattered Communist shelling and hit-and-run ground attacks that has prevailed since the end of the Dak To battle last week.

McClellan Insists on Crime Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's anticrime proposals are good as far as they go, but they don't go far enough, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., said Tuesday, and he refused to back away from a more stringent measure approved by his Senate Judiciary Subcommittee.

As a result, it may be that no anticrime legislation will get through Congress before it adjourns this year.

McClellan said the subcommittee retained and strengthened the substance of the president's proposal to improve law enforcement at the state and local level through federal grants for planning, recruitment, training, equipment and research.

The major difference is that McClellan wants to permit wiretapping by law enforcement officers acting under court orders, while Johnson has asked Congress to ban all wiretapping except in cases directly related to national security.

McClellan also would make voluntariness the only test for determining the admissibility of confessions in criminal cases to bar the Supreme Court from reviewing cases in which the highest court in a state had ruled that confession was voluntarily given.

McClellan told the Senate it was necessary to apply more than one remedy to the nation's crime problem because the problem was "too urgent for this country to depend solely on a one-shot approach."

The senator said he had been urged to cut back on the subcommittee bill to fit the president's proposals and obtain quick passage, but that he thought it was his responsibility to present the Senate "the most effective anticrime bill possible for the preservation of, and a return to, law and order in this country."

McClellan said the administration proposals held "much promise for long-range improvements in local law enforcement," but that citizens could not be left "exposed to, and unprotected from, the continued ravages of crime while awaiting the results of a long lead-time program."

Odds Against Even One House Passing Tax Hike This Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler gave Congress an administration proposal today for a $7.4-billion tax increase and a $4-billion spending cut, and said it would be unthinkable not to enact it promptly.

Fowler said the combination would cut the expected deficit from more than $25 billion to less than $14 billion and would amount to a giant step in strengthening the U.S. dollar against buffeting in the international market.

Fowler appeared before the House Ways and Means Committee which shelved President Johnson's tax proposal almost two months ago, saying it could be considered when Congress and the executive agreed on spending cuts.

By EDMOND LEBRETON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The odds against even one house of Congress passing a tax increase bill this year have gone almost out of sight, but President Johnson's administration is trying harder than ever to save the measure.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the House Ways and Means Committee, where all tax legislation must start, said Tuesday it would be impossible for a tax bill to get even through the House—let alone the Senate—by Jan. 1.

Mills has said repeatedly he considers the hearings to be an occasion for examining plans to reduce spending, not to consider tax legislation. But the Arkansas Democrat told newsmen he wouldn't cut off the administration officials if they wanted to talk taxes.

Mills has a double grievance against the administration spending cut plans. He says the amount is short by $1 billion or so of meeting his standard of dollar-for-dollar matching of tax increases and that it doesn't consider the $11 billion the taxes would yield in the next full year.

Rain Slated to End by Thursday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The U. S. Weather Bureau says rain will end in Arkansas Thursday morning with slightly warmer temperatures prevailing.

The forecast calls for mostly cloudy sky conditions through Thursday with the rain ending from the west.

The bureau said the low temperature tonight will drop into the 40s with Thursday's maximum readings climbing into the 50s.

The overnight low reported today was 32 degrees at Clarendon.

War Issue Defeated at Cambridge

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A resolution urging "the prompt return of American soldiers from Vietnam" was defeated by Cambridge voters, 17,742 to 11,349. Both critics and backers of the Johnson administration's policy on Vietnam said they were encouraged by the vote.

In Washington, Democratic National Committee Chairman John M. Bailey described the vote as "an encouraging endorsement of President Johnson's policies."

Harvard University economist and former U.S. Ambassador to India John Kenneth Galbraith said, "the administration will make a grave mistake if they assume that this is anything but a vote of no confidence."

The question appeared on municipal election ballots Nov. 7, but counting was delayed until Tuesday to allow for absentee ballots.

Many Fear War to Be Stepped Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's impending resignation is generating fears on Capitol Hill that he may have been pushed out as the first step of an accelerated U.S. war effort in Vietnam.

The board of the World Bank was to meet informally today to consider nomination of McNamara for the organization's presidency. It was not known if a decision would be made immediately or when McNamara might quit his Pentagon post if he is selected.

Some congressional sources greeted word of the defense chief's retirement with predictions a stepped up U.S. military drive in Vietnam is in the works.

And Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., questioned publicly whether McNamara is stepping out voluntarily. He cited some reports the secretary did not want to quit.

Kennedy, member of a family with close personal ties to McNamara, said it was important that Congress and the public "know really what is the basis" for the move.

Sen. Calborne Pell, D-R.I., called on McNamara in a Senate speech to stay on the job. He described the secretary as a voice of restraint in the highest councils of the administration and said if McNamara left there would be "a very real hardening of positions."

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, who has differed sharply with President Johnson over war policy, also said McNamara had imposed restraint on U.S. military leaders. He expressed hope a new defense chief wouldn't support an escalation of the U.S. military effort.

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., seemed to summarize some of the privately expressed fears of his colleagues when he told the Senate:

"All this innuendo about this man being pulled out because we are going to get into a nuclear conflict is ridiculous."

The White House, Pentagon and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, meanwhile denied reports a McNamara resignation would herald a change in Vietnam policy or that he was being dumped.

Asked about reports McNamara didn't even know he was being nominated for the World Bank post, a Pentagon spokesman replied:

"I am not going to discuss the secretary's conversations with the President. But any implication that the secretary was not aware of the nomination is untrue."

The White House said through a spokesman that McNamara's resignation would not change U.S. war policy. And in Saigon, Westmoreland told newsmen he didn't "foresee any change in policy" on the war if the defense secretary does quit.

Some congressional sources predicted McNamara's exit likely will strengthen Westmoreland's policy influence.

Capitol Hill leaders who frequent the White House suggested privately that withdrawal of McNamara from the Cabinet will add weight to the already considerable influence Westmoreland has built up with President Johnson.

They described Johnson as "completely sold" on Westmoreland and think he may well see the war out in his job. McNamara disputed the wisdom of Westmoreland's recommendations for troop increases last summer and got presidential backing for holding down the number.

Shirley Picard Leads Tourney

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Shirley Picard, a police detective captain and three-time winner of the Louisiana Amateur Championship, Monday fired a three-under-par 68 and led qualifiers for the $35,000 Cap'n Classic Golf Tournament.

Henry Clay, American statesman, was the man who said "I would rather be right than be president."

'All-Everything' Backfield Leads 1967 All-Americans

By MURRAY OLDERMAN
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK (NEA)—The backfield that has everything highlights the 1967 All-American Football Team announced today by Newspaper Enterprise Association.

It has, first of all, Gary Beban, the UCLA quarterback who is in line to receive the Heisman Award as the outstanding player in the nation. On the UCLA campus, Gary is known as "The Great One." He symbolizes the ultimate in football leadership.

If Beban doesn't get the Heisman bauble, O. J. Simpson of Southern California certainly will. He is the most dynamic player in the country, the leading rusher, the perfect blend of power and speed. O. J., or Orange Juice, represents quality.

Their only rival for individual national acclaim is Leroy Keyes of Purdue. He denotes versatility. A defensive back last year, he has emerged as the greatest attacking threat in the Big Ten. Whether he's running, catching or throwing the football. And in emergencies, he has also doubled on defense. As against Notre Dame. On this team, he plays flanker.

The fullback is Larry Csonka, who provides the raw strength. The only credential he needs is the all-time ground gaining record at Syracuse. This is the school that has produced Jimmy Brown, Ernie Davis and Floyd Little—three of the greatest backs of modern football history. And Csonka outran them all—the middle.

Paced by film clips of these men in action, the 1967 NEA All-American Team will be the subject of a television presentation by ABC-TV following the Army-Navy football game of the week on Dec. 2.

The 22 men chosen will also be honored in special ceremonies in their home towns. Each will receive an individual certificate. Bagpiper leisure blankets with All-American emblems and sets of Burlington Gold Cups crew socks to match those worn by the United States Olympic teams.

A sectional breakdown of the offensive and defensive platoons reveals vividly the swing of strength in the country this year to the West Coast.

The two top teams, Southern California and UCLA, each placed two men—Simpson and offensive tackle Ron Yary for the Trojans; Beban and linebacker Don Manning for the Uclans. Defensive tackle Jess Lewis of Oregon State and Jim Smith of Oregon were the other West Coasters. Southern California also had two men, end Jim Roosovick and linebacker Adrian Young, on the defensive unit of the second team.

Next to the Pacific Coast in representation is the strong Southeastern Conference. Bob Johnson of Tennessee, unchallenged as the top center in the country, leads a five-man contingent from that area. The Volunteers, who challenge USC and UCLA for the national championship, also featured offensive tackle John Boynton and defensive back Albert Dorsey on the second team. The only repeater from the 1966 team is offensive tackle Edgar Chandler of Georgia.

Defensive tackle Dennis Byrd of North Carolina State and middle guard Wayne Meylan, All-Americans a year ago as juniors, were shoved back to the second team. In Meylan's case, the competition from another Big Eight guard, Granville Liggins of Oklahoma, was overwhelming. "Liggins," said coach Clay Stapleton of Iowa State, "is the finest football player I've ever seen."

This All-American team wasn't assembled from preseason handouts. It includes eight relatively unpublicized juniors, divided evenly on both platoons. On the offensive, Simpson, Keyes and the ends, Ted Kwalick of Penn State and Ron Sellers of Florida State, have another year of eligibility. From the defense, ends Ted Hendricks (Miami of Florida) and Bob Stein (Minnesota), tackle Lewis and linebacker D. D. Lewis of Mississippi State will return.

All-Americans aren't restricted to winning teams, either. Linebacker Lewis has performed brilliantly on a team that has just one victory this year, but Bear Bryant of Alabama called him the best he's ever seen at his position.
